DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-18 are allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 19 provides for the use of the rubber composition of claim 2, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

The references to Tasaka et al and Toyoshima et al, both newly cited, teach the production of compositions similar to those as herein recited and claimed. Tasaka et al teach the production of an impact modified resin composition comprising constituents that may be similar. However, Tasaka et al produce their filler powder from a crushing process and do not teach or suggest the particular monomers, or their relative proportions, as claimed. Note the entire document. The patent to Toyoshima et al fails to teach or fairly suggest the concepts as instantly claimed herein since there is no recognition of the employment of a high 1, 4 trans-bond content for the matrix resin. Note the entire document. Neither patent is deemed to present a bar to the patentability of the instant claims. Copies of these references will NOT be furnished with this Office Action.
